

Food Web Crossword

Down:

- Animals such as baleen whales and sponges use different body parts like sieves to strain food from the water - these are called _____ feeders. (6)
- Marine creatures that feed on the sea floor are called _____-feeders. (6)
- Describes an animal that eats both plants and animals for energy. (8)
- Describes an animal that eats only plants for energy. (9)
- A type of plant that grows under the ocean. (8)
- A hunter in the ocean. (5)
- Many food chains that are linked together are called a food _____. (3)
- A living thing that is able to produce its own food using the light energy from the sun. (5)

Across:

- Describes an animal that eats other animals for energy. (9)
- Where our food goes after we eat it. (7)
- Many animals do not eat the pufferfish, because it is _____. (9)
- Small, floating plants and animals which are the base of many marine food chains. (8)
- Describes an animal that relies on the remains of already dead animals for energy. (9)
- Describes an animal that is hunted and eaten by a predator. (4)
- Many animals use these to bite, chew and tear up food. (5)