

Seaside Storytime

What kind of marine animal can you find in a rock pool? Imagine you are one of these animals and write a story describing a day in their life. You will need to think about things that might affect your animal such as tides, sunlight, feeding, moving around, protecting yourself from predators and your relationship with other living things in the rock pool. Write your story inside the rock pool below.

